2005 River Sweep, June 18

In 1991, the Kentucky River Authority made its first effort to clean up the banks of the Kentucky River and its tributaries. Since then, the Kentucky River Authority has organized an annual river sweep. In 1997, the KRA and ORSANCO became partners in a joint effort to clean up our riverbanks. Volunteers have removed tons of trash and debris, including household appliances, automobiles, and recyclable items from the river and its tributaries.

On Saturday, June 18 volunteers will help clean up the Kentucky River and its tributaries. This event will give individuals and communities the opportunity to actively make a difference in the quality of the environment, enhance the opportunity for tourism and economic development, and learn more about community pride and organization. If you would like to participate please contact Sue Ann Elliston or Kayla Elliston at 502/564-2866.
